WORDS AND MUSIC BY

CHARLIE BAKER.

Moderato.

1. Now Na - - ture clothes her - self in green, And beau - ty smiles in ev - 'ry view, Our
2. The tip - - pler, who for ma - - ny years— Has walked a - long De - struc - tion's edge, Now
3. The drunk - - ard comes with death - like scars And seeks to be A man a - gain, De - thank - ful hearts em - brace the scene, Our eyes are turned to heav - en's blue, The tells his friends to dry their tears, For he has signed the Murph - y Pledge, He serts the fields of Bac - chus' wars— En - rolls him - self with Murph - y men, He gloom of drunk - en - ness has gone, In - tem - per - ance has said a - dieu, And now has passed from gloom to light, His feet are placed in path - ways true, He wont go back to liv - ing death, Nor join the Bac - cha - nal - ian crew, No fath - er, moth - er, sis - ter, son, Now wear a badge of heav - en's blue. has re - solved to do the right, And wears a badge of heav - en's blue.

no, un - til his lat - est breath, He'll bless the badge of heav - en's blue.
