

2nd Edition. Sarah Butler
THE IRISH MOTHER'S LAMENT

S O N G.

introducing the IRISH CRY for the DEAD

AS SUNG BY

MRS SEGUIN.

COMPOSED BY

JOHN BARTON

NEW-YORK

Published by WILLIAM HALL & SON 259 Broadway
Corner of Park Place.

Price 50cts.

THE IRISH MOTHER'S LAMENT.

"She cursed her Sons for disobeying her orders: and they were drowned that night on the Lake. She prepared supper for them, but when she saw the ghosts of her children at the table, she died mad, singing the following Irish Keen."

VOICE. Ad lib: A tempo

* Oh Hone..... They

PIANO Dimi-nu-en-do ppp

FORTE.

Slowly

mf say my sons are sleeping Be-neath the treach'rous waves And I their mother keep-ing The wild watch o'er their graves— But are they dead nay sleeping Deep in the waves they lie There whisp'-ring love or

* Och hone — Alas!

673

dreaming And will not hear my cry Oh Hone oh Hone oh

Philla lilla leu Oh Hone..... Oh Hone.....

Ad lib: Rallentando...
pp Rallentando... ppp

A tempo.
..... Flow on flow on glad waters The young the lov'd the brave Are gone to court thy Daugh-ters The blithe ones of the wave Shine on thou lake of Pleasure When last thy breast was spread Each sunk to seek his treasure As in a rosy bed! Oh

Hone oh Hone oh Philla lilla leu..... Oh Hone..... Oh

Ritardando pp f

Ad lib: Hone..... A Tempo. Rise dear ones from the waters And Piu animato. ppp Piu animato.

glad me with your smile The Lake's enamour'd Daughters Will spare ye for a while Quit quit their loves too tender Their music and their wine Leave leave their homes of splendour One hour to brighten mine. Oh

Hone oh Hone oh Phiallilla leu..... Oh Hone.....

Rallentando. pp