

YOU 34^a I ALL REAP JUST WHAT YOU SOW
by Alexander Robinson

JACK MILLS INC.
Music Publishers
Jack Mills Building
148-150 W. 46th St. New York

MADE IN U.S.A.

STARTER

Get the Number For Your Phonograph Player Piano

You Shall Reap Just What You Sow!

By ALEXANDER ROBINSON

Moderato

Vamp

VOICE

When our eyes are dimmed with tears — we fail to re - al -
There's some peo - ple in this world — so rest - less as can

FROM THE LIBRARY OF FRANK HIMPSL
FOR PIANOPHILIA.COM
NOT FOR PROFIT

-ize We're re - pent - ing thru' the years — Our be Nev - er nev - er sat - is - fied — Don't sins tho' mem' - ry dies My sweet-heart — has turned me down know pros - per - i - ty Some are false — but shine like gold —

In life's sea — I'm left to drown — But just as sure — as win-try
When they fool — you just be bold — Hold your head up — and take it winds will blow you shall reap just what you sow You shall for your share there's a gloom - y day some - where

CHORUS

reap what you sow in the sweetsweet bye and bye when the fire of my love shall cease to burn — You will call me in vain and just hang your head and ery I'll be far far a - way I'll not re - turn ——— Man-y times when you're blue you will miss my hug and kiss, When your new lov-er quits and turns to go ——— If you make your own bed hard don't you call on the good Lord 'cause he prom-ised you shall reap just what you sow. you shall sow. ———